M. yes, terday, 11th, says the newspaper accounts cannot exaggrate the fearfulness of the loss of life on the lake shore. A later dispatch from the same place states that on Sundaynight at 90 clock a fire broke out in the Belgian settlement of the Brussels Boor Company, destroying one hundred and eighty houses—all but five the place contained. Nine persons are missing, and are supposed to have perished in the flames. The inhabitants lost everything; and, stunned by their losses, are camped upon their desolated homesteads, destitute of everything. Active measures for their relief are being taken from Duluth and other places, but before assistance can reach to dissuade those who are anxious to visit un-cage from mere curiosity from coming. Guestillest Phonenands IN THE WORLD.

The following is furnished by the correspondent of the New York Tribune:

I have just returned from the ghostiest promenade in the world. From Congress street to Lincoln Park and beyond to Wright's Grove, four miles of what was last week the busiest and most vigorous city of the West, there is now one wide-spread desolation, marked by scorched and calcined chinneys, by mounds of Alout 2 celock this morning an alarm of fire and the second control of the second c

About 2° celock this morning an alarm of fire was given in Windsor, opposite Detroit, and in a few moments the flames spread in every direction, consuming the principal business portion of the town. The Great Western depot was saved through the exertions of the railway employea. There was no wind or probably not a building would have escaped. One man was arrested, it is said, in the act of firing a building. He was now one wide-spread desolation, marked by scorched and calcined chinneys, by mounds of glowing brick and stone, all covered like a wintery piain with a fall of whitening ashes. The vastness and monotony of the view is a severisome and depressing as that of the desert.

Formerly every quarter of the city had its distinctive character, and along the banks of fasks Mickigan to the south of the river rose the stately mangions of the men whose energy said industry made Chicago what it was. Few streets in any city could present so uniform a display of

Lieut. Gen. Sheridan has issued the following order:

HEARQUARTERS MILITARY DIV. or MISSOURI, I To his Honor the Major.

The preservation of the peace and good order of the city having been entrasted to me by your Honor, I am happy to state that no case of outbreak or disorder has been reported; no authenticated attempt at incendiarism has reached me, and that the people of the city are calm, quiet and well-disposed. The force at my disposal is ample to maintain order, should it be necessary to protect the district devastated by the free. Still would suggest to citizens not to rolax in their watchfulness until the amsuldering fires of burned buildings are entirely extinguished.

We have often had occasion to compli ent Mr. STEPHENS, of the Atlanta Sur even the Peak of Tenerific itself, and we have never said so, as often as it has been our inestimable privilege to say it, without, an emotion of mingled pride and pleasure wholly beyond the power of words to express. An overwhelming majority of his ineffably sublime paragraphs are from one to seventeen and a half columns in length, but now and then, in hurried momenta, he dashes off an assorted lot, each of which is almost as brief as brilliant. It is with the liveliest degree of fraternal satisfaction that we lay a few samples before the reader. Namely, to-wit, viz:

The Procession, Picnic and Ball in Commenciation of the Discovery of America Yesterday—A Grand Gala Day.

The Society of the Italian Brotherhood, together with those societies and members of societies who chose to join with them, celebrated their annual festival of Christopher Columbus yesterday by a procession picnic, and ball at Woodland Garden.

About 9 clock in the morning the various societies formed in procession line at the Masonic Temple, and by the direction of Mr. Joseph Botto, the grand marshal, they proceeded out Fourth to Green, up Green to Third, in Third to Main, down Main to Siath, in Sixth to Market, up Market to Second, and in Second to Main and up Main to Woodland Garden, where a splendid dinner was served and partaken of by about five hundred persons.

The procession was not as large as anticipated, as there were two or three hundred persons in carriages, buggles and hacks in the line. After a sumptuous dinner at the garden, speeches were made by Messrs. N. Nicholas, Vice-Consul of Italy; J. B. Ricardi, A. B. Longinotti and Judge Johnson. A pretty poem on "Italy and Christopher Columbus" was read by Major Irvin, and was favorably commented upon by the eatiffe assembly, Mr. A. G. Gaszollo.

The Lady Orchestra.

Of the Lady-Orchestra, which will give a concert at Weisiger Hall this evening, a number of our foreign contemporaries have unanimously spoken in such terms of praise that we will not, must not, fail to draw the attention of the public to the rare treat which is in store for them. As we are unable to make space for lengthier communications we will only give a few extracts from these critiques. The Bamberger Landbote says: "The throng to the first concert of the Lady-Orchestra was so great that the hall could not hold all the visitors, and to many the money had to be returned

[To the Editor of the Courier-Journal.]
It is suggested to the Mayor of Louisville to invite all Mayors of the cities in the United States to meet in Louisville, at an early day, to take combined action in reference to adding Chicago. To this meeting should also be invited the presidents of all the railroads, banks, steamship, transportation and other companies in the countries of the control of the Chicago and the President of the United States.
